St. Aidan's is a one-form entry school in North London, situated in the heart of a socially mixed and vibrant residential area between Finsbury Park and Crouch End. It is a successful and popular Church of England school serving the local community. We are proud of our strong network of staff, governors, parents and children who work together to make the school a happy and vibrant place. It has been described as a 'village school in the middle of London.'

Our recent Ofsted inspection (July 2024) graded the school as Outstanding in all areas.
