Home-school agreement, 2026/7

Welcome to St Aidan's School!

Every child is important to us and we strive to ensure that all children are happy, confident and successful individuals, in line with our vision and values. At St Aidan's, we believe in putting the child at the centre of all that we do.

We believe that a close partnership between home and school is essential in providing children with the best possible education and chances in life. The Home-school agreement is one aspect of this partnership. It enables parents, carers, staff and pupils at St Aidan's to make a clear commitment to work together.

The agreement makes it clear what is expected of staff, parents, carers and pupils so that pupils will be able to work hard, achieve and be successful at our school and parents will be able to take an active part in their child's learning.

I have read and agree to abide by the Home-school agreement.
